

Society Website Guide

Admin Rights for Specific Roles

Each committee role will have different admin rights within the system.

President – Events, Details, Products, Members Messages/Emails, News, Sales Reports, Finance

Secretary – Events, Details, Products, Members, Messages/Emails, News, Sales Reports, Finance

Treasurer – Products, Sales Reports, Finance

General Committee – Finance

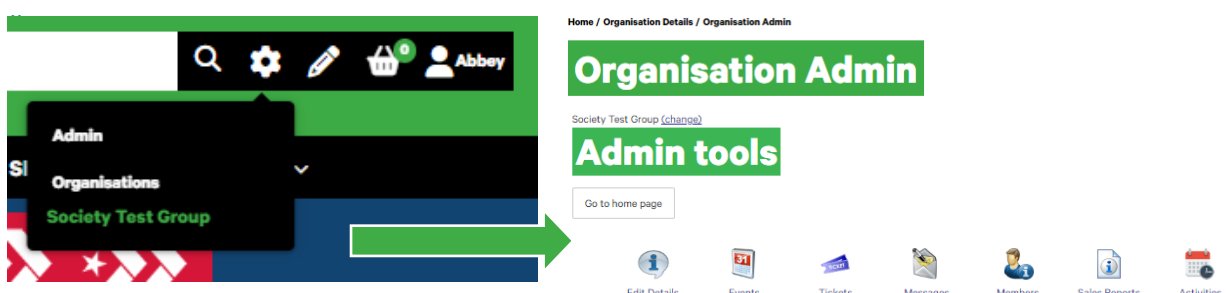

How to access admin tools

Log into the Guild website with the student log in portal. When successfully logged in it will take you back to the main page. Guild Website - Welcome \(liverpoolguild.org\)

“Log in” will now be replaced with your name and you will have a cog as an option to the left.

To access admin tools, click the cog/settings button and then the group under Organisation. This will say your society’s name. If you are on more than one committee, you will have more options. It will then take you Organisation Admin page which will allow you access to edit and use the website.

Admin Tools Overview

- Edit Details - Edit your main page on the Guild website, such as logo, description, socials etc

There should already be a description of your society on the website. It is then your choice to add in a logo for your society.

Events

The events page is where you will have control of the upload of your events. This will be one of the most important features you will use most throughout the year.

Each event you host must be ticketed through the website; this includes free events and must have been Guild approved!

Here you can search for your listed events. Use the filter to ensure you are searching the correct date range for the events to show.

Once you have set up your event, your coordinator will be able to approve this via the website. Coordinators check events once a day in the morning. However, do feel free to send your coordinator an email letting them know you have uploaded an event. Coordinators will only upload events they have been made aware of and have discussed with you.

Tickets

Click on the tickets tab on the admin site. You should then have the option to add tickets for your event. You can only add tickets if you have an event listed. Once a ticket has been sold it cannot be edited! Include as much information as possible!

Double check the ticket type, price, what time the ticket is set to go on sale, the limits should be the capacity and then should be set to 1 per person. Title the ticket description and then add some info in the box. Then press save.

Once you have saved you will see something like this. To edit the ticket, click on the name of the event. It will then come up with the options. Make sure you have double check your tickets are correct, and the event is set to take place.

Once the ticket has been made you will not be able to remove it without contacting a societies coordinator at the Guild.

For members to purchase, if you click on the event on the website, you should see the description of the event and alongside an option to 'add to basket'. If the event is free, then it will still need to be added to the basket, but no payment will be taken.

Edit customisations

When creating a ticket for an event, it might be necessary to add customisations to your ticket. This might be necessary if you need to know someone's dietary requirements, accessibility requirements.

To access this, go to your ticket and find the pen and paper icon.

Once you click on this you should see an option to add customisations.

You will then have the option to fill in details.

You can label what the information you are asking for regards. In this instance I have used the example of dietary requirements and included a short description.

The customisation type refers to the customisation per product. For example, if you set your ticket to include a plus one then the customisation type should be per item as you will need to know the dietary requirements for both attendees.

When you scroll down, it will ask you to input predefined values. This is where you can list your options and preferences.

If you click 'limit to this list' then when someone is imputing their options, they will only be able to choose from the options you give them.

News

Here you can add new articles or review previous ones posted. Articles must be approved by a societies coordinator before they are published to the website.

Click add new article - Follow the boxes, imputing as much information as you would like. See reference images

You must ensure that article comments, sharing and rating are unticked! You can add images and then fill out the body of the article.

To find the article go to the website home page and scroll down to latest news and click view all news! Or click this link [News \(liverpoolguild.org\)](http://News (liverpoolguild.org))

Messages

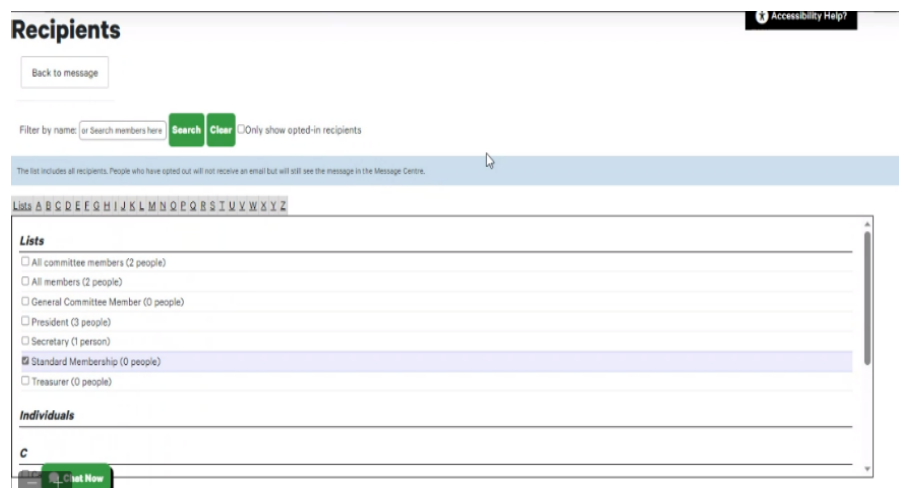

Another option on the admin side of the website there is an option for messaging. Here you can message your members and update them on any events that are coming up.

When you are ready to create a new email make sure you set the reply to your society email. Once you send the email, this means your members will receive it from the society email as opposed to your personal one.

There will be a list of options as see below to add recipients.

To add recipients, select 'standard membership'. This will compile a list of all your members and send the email to all of them.

You can add your message here and format it in any which way you want.
